OUR SERVICES

We provide worldwide repatriation of the deceased back home

Assistance with repatriation back abroad

RepatService, located in The Netherlands helps private individuals, companies, funeral and insurance companies. We provide assistance of repatriations of deceased around the world. Both from the Netherlands to abroad, as well as from any other country back home.

Because every death situation abroad is different, due to, among other things, the cause and country of death, local legislation, whether or not insurance is involved and the presence or absence of family, we answer all questions and explain the options and costs for the repatriation.

Our goal is to unburden you as much as possible of all the worries concerning the repatriation of the deceased, your loved one. We are well aware that during the repatriation there is no time to lose to transfer your loved one back home as quickly as possible. A death, and certainly abroad is often unexpected and not something that someone often has to deal with. We do and we care. That's our strenght.

Contact us for all your questions. We are available 24/7 for immediate assistance.

Years of experience in repatriating the deceased all over the world

About us, RepatService

The RepatService team has been working together for a long time and has years of experience in repatriating the deceased all over the world. Both back to the Netherlands from abroad and also from the Netherlands to abroad. We also have the experience in arranging cremations abroad and transporting the ashes all over the world.

We are specialized in organizing and arranging the entire transfer and, in addition to the necessary documents and transport by road and air, we also take care of all communication with all relevant authorities at home and abroad. Everything in a very discrete and personal manner with respect for the deceased and the next of kin.

Due to our knowledge of the funeral industry in the Netherlands, we support and advise the local funeral home for the upcoming funeral or farewell before departure abroad.

Contact us for all your questions. We are 24/7 available for immediate assistance.
